

National Headliners

The National End of Life Care Intelligence Network (NEoLCIN) release latest annual deaths data: The latest provisional rolling data on annual deaths by place of occurrence 2015-16 Q1 to 2017-18, Q4 is now available on the NEoLCIN website.

The Annual data on place of death together with other end of life care indicators are available from the End of Life Care Profiles.

New toolkit to assist End of Life Care Planning alongside Young People with Learning Disabilities and their Families: The RIPE Project (Researching Interventions that Promote Ethics) led by the University of Surrey have developed an educational resource to help formal care-givers engage effectively and ethically in end of life care planning with young people with learning disabilities and their families and friends.

Access the website here

The Carers Action Plan 2018-2020 [for England] - "Supporting Carers Today": The cross-government Carers Action Plan is an essential step towards realising the Government's commitment to value, recognise and support carers to provide care in a way that supports their own health and wellbeing, employment and other life chances.

The plan sets out a two-year programme of targeted work to support unpaid carers. It puts a focus on practical actions to support carers and gives visibility to the work already underway or planned within government.

Read more here and access the plan here

Thames Valley
Strategic Clinical Network

End of Life Bulletin July 2018

Independent Age releases a report and new research about older peoples experiences of bereavement: This report brings together what we already know about older people's experiences of bereavement along with new research centred on whose partners have died. It focuses on some of the issues faced by those living with the grief of losing a loved one. Its research also reveals how talking about death, at an individual and a policy level, can start to provide the help that older people need when faced with the most difficult moment of their lives.

Access the report here

Compassion in Dying launches their new publication - "Planning Ahead: My treatment and care": This accessible and practical guide will be useful for those wanting to promote Advance Care Planning within their respective care settings.

Access the website here

Regional Updates

Human Rights Free Training: for registered and non-registered staff go to: www.sueryder.org/humanrightstraining

For more information contact gina.king1@nhs.net

Working together in partnership to improve quality and care at the end of life in the Thames Valley